Re: Nuvo NY, LLC v. Healthline Media, LLC
Case No. 1:23-cv-01485-LAK-SLC

Dear Honorable Judge Cave:

This firm represents Defendant Healthline Media, LLC (“Healthline”) in the above-referenced matter. Healthline writes in response to the June 30, 2023 Order Adjourning the Initial Case Management Conference. Dkt. No. 17. Defendant notes that the Order sets the Initial Case Management Conference for Friday, August 1, 2023, directs the Parties to meet and confer no later than 21 days before the Conference, and file a Report of Rule 26(f) Meeting and Proposed Case Management Plan 7 days before the conference. Id.

On March 10, 2023, the Court granted Plaintiff’s letter Motion for an Extension of Time to serve its Summons and Complaint. Dkt. No. 14. This Order states: “Plaintiff shall serve the Summons and Complaint by Monday, April 10, 2023.” Id. Plaintiff has not yet served or filed its Summons and Complaint.

On June 16, 2023, I met and conferred with Counsel for Plaintiff Nuvo NY, LLC. We agreed that Plaintiff would request to continue the Initial Case Management in order to permit the parties to continue settlement discussions. Plaintiff filed a letter stating as such on June 30, 2023. Dkt. No. 16. The parties are still engaged in settlement discussions at this time, and request a further adjournment of the Initial Case Management Conference scheduled for August 1, 2023 at 10:00 a.m. to September 1, 2023 or a time convenient for the Court approximately thirty (30) days from the currently scheduled conference. Plaintiff is in agreement with this request. This is the second application of its kind.
